Their role is to make sure that the Association is well run, meets the needs of the local area and is responsive to what is important to local people.

The Management Committee appoints senior staff, agrees all the Association's policies and takes all the key decisions. The Director and the senior team support the Committee in these responsibilities.

5. Introduction

Wellhouse Housing Association is committed to reducing and where possible eliminating stress for its employees. Although stress in itself is not an illness, it can be a contributory factor in many conditions and can cause both physical and mental illnesses. Stress on its own can also result in poor mental health of employees even if the effects are not severe enough to result in a medical diagnosis. Wellhouse Housing Association recognises the need to promote a culture of good mental and physical health in its duty of care under the requirement of the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974.

6. The Policy

Policy Aims:

This policy aims to:

- Promote a culture of mental and physical wellbeing;
- Increase awareness of stress;
- Provide managers with a clear process to use should an employee report they are experiencing symptoms of stress;
- Provide details of the proactive measure Wellhouse HA will implement to help reduce and where possible eliminate stress and its causes.

Background:

Stress in the workplace is not new. The Health and Safety Executive (HSE) introduced Stress Management Standards a number of years ago and implemented tools to accompany them which have developed over the years. The management standards cover six key areas:

- Demands
- Support
- Change
- Control
- Role
- Relationships

Full descriptions of the standards and typical behaviours which can be a sign of stress are available from the HSE website [www.hse.gov.uk].

It is important to distinguish the difference between stress and pressure. In most work situations some pressure is healthy, but, stress is when a person experiences too much pressure and the effect of the pressure becomes negative.

Legal Framework

Although there is no specific legislation on stress the following are relevant through case law.

- Health & Safety at Work Act 1974
- Under section 2 (1), employers have a duty to 'ensure, so far as is reasonably practical, the health, safety and welfare at work of all...employees'
- Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations 1999
- Requires that employers make a suitable and sufficient assessment of the risks to the H&S of its employees to which they are exposed whilst they are at work and this includes stress.

Definitions

The following are definitions which will be applied in the context of this policy

- Stress : the adverse reaction people have to excessive pressure or other types of demand placed on them
- Proactive measures : aims to prevent the harm caused by stress by taking action before it occurs

- Reactive measures: actions which will respond to any stress related situation to minimise harm once it has occurred and assist in preventing it occurring again.

Line Manager Responsibilities

- ⇒ Ensure that staff are not working excessive hours on a regular and prolonged basis.

Reactive Measures

Stress is a very individualised condition and, as a result, it is unfortunate that even with the above measures being put in place some employees may nonetheless find themselves experiencing a stressful period in their lives. This may be caused by work or personal circumstances, or a combination of both.

Managing Individual Stress Concerns

The following details the process that will be used by Wellhouse Housing Association should an employee raise concerns of stress.

- ⇒ Manager becomes aware that an employee is experiencing stress
- ⇒ The manager should arrange to meet with the staff member within 3 days to discuss the issues.
- ⇒ The line manager will give the employee a stress questionnaire to complete (Appendix 1).
- ⇒ The employee completes the questionnaire and returns this to the line manager.
- ⇒ The line manager completes any appropriate sections.
- ⇒ A second meeting is arranged to discuss the questionnaire, identify ways of managing the issues, and any support or interim arrangements that may assist the employee's recovery.
- ⇒ If appropriate the employee may be referred to an occupational health specialist, Employee Counselling Service or any other appropriate service.
- ⇒ At the conclusion of the meeting an action plan will be completed to summarise discussions and what actions will be taken by the organisation, line manager and employee.
- ⇒ If the employee is absent as a result of stress the absence will continue to be managed in line with Wellhouse Housing Associations absence management procedures.

NB: If the employee's line manager is a contributing factor to the employee's stress, another appropriate manager e.g. a manager one level above will conduct the meetings.

If it is identified that the stress is being caused by another employee then appropriate investigations may be required in line with Wellhouse Housing Association's Grievance Policy.

If through discussions with an employee a line manager becomes aware of a stress risk they will raise this in the appropriate way to ensure it is addressed at an organisational level. This will be done while maintaining the employee's confidentiality.

Occupational Health

If deemed appropriate an employee may be referred to an occupational health specialist to assist in the absence management and help identify any actions that could be taken to assist in the employee's recovery.

Employee Counselling Service

The details of the service available to employees are displayed on the staff notice board or can be sought from the employees line manager.
